

Register and Register Today

so you can vote in the coming bond election. The time is short and surely you want to exercise your privilege as a citizen. If you register and don't vote you are counted against it, but if you don't register you are not counted one way or the other.

Mrs. W. J. McAnally returned last week from a visit to friends in Winston. Misses Adelaide and Mary Dalton and Albert Kay, of Winston, returned with her for a short visit.

Vital Statistics

The June report of vital statistics shows in the city 14 deaths and 37 births; outside the city in the township 5 deaths and 15 births, the first six months of the year, shows a gain of 171 in population in the city—104 deaths and 221 births. In the township outside of the city for six months, 14 deaths and 68 births, a net gain in population of 54

Rev. Gilbert Rowe has been conducting a series of meetings at Pleasant Hill church and much interest has been manifested.

INTO BOILING WATER

Wade Barker, colored, received painful injuries at the Consolidated Veneer and Panel Co., Friday night in stepping into a vat of boiling water. He is getting along all right.

H. U. Oakes and J. M. Teague were the delegates and T. O. Whittington and G. C. Valentine were the alternates from the West End Fire Co., Inc., to the Firemen's Convention at Raleigh.

Miss Lena Smith, of Boise City, Idaho, is visiting her aunts, the Misses Smith on Steele street.

HALF HOLIDAY.

Most of the merchants who signed the list to close their stores on Friday afternoon during July and August did so the very first week and it is believed all of them will close tomorrow and give their clerks a breathing spell. It is quite certain that the clerks in the few stores that do not close will soon open their eyes and will want the same privilege extended them that the clerks in other stores enjoy or there will sooner or later be an insurrection. No store will lose anything by the movement. Suppose for argument's sake a store takes in $50 on a dry, dull Friday afternoon the profits would be very little, and yet there are several who will not do that much business.

The trading public will think more of the stores, we dare say, for this generosity, so let all join hands in this humane movement.

The list of those signing to close has been published and the people know who they are and certainly no one can afford not to carry out the agreement and we believe they will.

Judge and Mrs. Carter Dalton are visiting Mr. Dalton's brother Thomas at North Wilkesboro. Dr. Peacock will act as Recorder in the absence of Mr. Dalton.
